Reasons for Allowance

Claims 46-59, 63-64, 88-95 and 104-113 are pending. Within this claim set, claims 46, 51, 53, 63, 64, 88 and 104 are independent. The closest prior art is U.S. Patent 6,235,176 to Schoen et al.

Claim 46: Schoen does not recite the step of paying the premium amount calculated by the computer system with assets of the trust. Schoen does state that premiums are paid into or within the trust (col. 9-10) but does not state this is done with trust assets. Schoen also does not disclose the disability benefit amount being substantially equal to the pre-disability contribution amount.

Claim 51: Schoen does not disclose paying the premium amount calculated by the computer system with assets of the trust. Schoen does not disclose the step of matching eligibility for the insurance to eligibility for the plan or matching eligibility for the insurance to participation in the plan, or both, for the plan year prior to the policy year for which the insurance is effective.

Claim 53: Schoen does not disclose paying the premium amount calculated by the computer system with assets of the trust. Schoen does not disclose the step of linking the premiums and benefits to the contributions to the plan for the plan year prior to the policy year for which the insurance is effective, the contributions demonstrated to meet a non-discrimination requirement by definition or testing.

Claim 63: Schoen does not disclose paying the premium amount calculated by the computer system with assets of the trust. Schoen does not disclose the trust as a defined contribution 457 plan.

Claim 64: Schoen does not disclose paying the premium amount calculated by the computer system with assets of the trust. Schoen does not disclose the trust as a defined contribution 403(b) plan.

Claim 88: Schoen does not disclose paying the premium amount with assets of the trust. Schoen does not disclose the disability benefit amount being substantially equal to the pre-disability contribution amount. Schoen does not disclose the step of matching eligibility for the insurance to eligibility for the plan, matching eligibility for the insurance to participation in the plan, or both, for the plan year prior to the policy year for which the insurance is effective.

Claim 104: Schoen does not disclose paying the premium amount calculated by the computer system with assets of the trust. Schoen does not disclose the disability amount being substantially equal to the pre-disability contribution amount. Schoen does not disclose the step of linking the premiums and benefits to pre-disability contributions to the plan for the plan year prior to the policy year for which the insurance is effective, where the contributions meet a non-discrimination requirement by definition or by testing.

Accordingly, claims 46, 51, 53, 63, 64, 88 and 104 are allowable. Claims 47-50, 52, 54-59, 89-95 and 105-113 are dependent thereon and are also allowable.
